PROJECTS

PrizeKicks | UX/UI Design – Figma

Jan 2025 – May 2025

- Conducted market analysis of sneaker resale and retail apps (Nike SNKRS, GOAT, Depop, etc.) to identify gaps in user experience and opportunities for differentiation.
- Defined user personas and stakeholders (teenagers, sneakerheads, designers, resellers) through interviews and surveys, synthesizing user needs into actionable design goals.
- Designed information architecture, navigation flows, and wireframes (low-, mid-, and high-fidelity) in Figma to support browsing, price comparison, and AR-based try-on features.
- Applied User-Centered Design methodology, including task analysis, think-aloud protocols, and usability testing, to evaluate prototypes and identify UX pain points (e.g., sign-up flow, price transparency, navigation).
- Iterated design based on user testing feedback, improving clarity, reducing cognitive load, and enhancing visual consistency with a moderate, clean UI style guide.
- Delivered a high-fidelity interactive prototype in Figma, achieving positive feedback on intuitive navigation, appealing layout, and effective search/filter functionality.
